Welcome to our 10th anniversary season

Walk along with us as we celebrate "10 years of inspiring change"

As we proudly kick off our exciting milestone season, we are humbled and honored by all the longtime and new partners who have walked alongside us for the past decade.

This year's festival theme is "10 Years of Inspiring Change," and you're invited to watch a change-making slate of 25 outstanding short and feature-length films that shine a light on the most important issues of our time.

You're probably able to think of at least a handful of films that have changed what you know, how you think, or what you've decided to do. This year's lineup is full of such films.

We know many long, tough, uphill months have passed since we were together at last year's festival. Due to COVID-19 precautions, we have moved everything online: the powerful films, the facilitated discussions and uplifting conversations with filmmakers and action partners.

While we wish we could meet in person this year, this virtual environment gives us new opportunities: a wider, national audience and more "seats" for each film, so we can broaden our movement and inspire more change.

Another new change: our 10th birthday dreams came true with the launch of our recent renaming and organizational realignment under the banner of "One Earth Collective." Visit oneearthcollective.org to learn more.

In the words of writer and activist Valarie Kaur, "we grieve together, and then we build together." This past year has revealed to us a vicious triple-threat: our public health COVID-19 pandemic, our longstanding racial justice pandemic, and the growing pandemic of our climate crisis. To this end, One Earth is doubling-down on our commitment to work at the intersection of social and environmental justice.

You'll see this commitment woven throughout the film lineup and accompanying programs: From "Flint: Who Can You Trust?" an exposé of the water crisis affecting low-income and BIPOC communities, to "Manzanar, Diverted," which reveals systemic mistreatment of Japanese Americans, Indigenous communities, and locals, to "Gather," which centers on Native American food sovereignty.

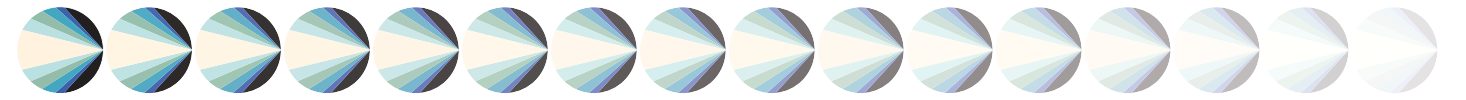

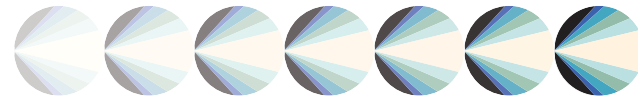

You'll also hear the voices of youth in several events, including One Earth Young Filmmakers Contest award-winning films. These young people are whistle blowers on topics such as environmental justice, plastic waste, and the climate crisis. Katrina Lerner's "One Choice" explains that our daily decisions can help make change and turn the tide.

We are so very grateful for your participation. Let's "build together" a world that is more healthy and more just for all.

10TH ANNIVERSARY SEASON LAUNCH PARTY & FILMMAKERS TOAST

Get the party started with a special make-at-home cocktail recipe (your choice: with alcohol or without). Then, toast from home with some of our filmmakers.

Jenn White, host of NPR's nationally syndicated show, "1A", will lead a riveting online conversation with three special guest filmmakers: Anthony Baxter, Director of "Flint: Who Can You Trust?" Christi Cooper, Director of "Youth v Gov;" and Sanjay Rawal, Director of "Gather." We'll also see trailers and a Young Filmmakers Contest winning film. Angela Tovar, Chief Sustainability Officer for the City of Chicago, and Steve Bynum, senior producer of WBEZ's "Reset" will help us kick things off. Tara Gupta, former Young Filmmakers Contest winner, will M.C.

Tickets for Season Launch Party

All sponsors and members at certain levels may receive free tickets to these events. Email joanna@oneearthfilmfest.org.
